Full Moon 2010

Each month we present a short text by Daniel Levy, a world-renowned classical pianist and the Co-Founder and Director of the International Academy of Euphony.

He is giving expression to a synthesis of modern and traditional Wisdom of Sound and Music and its therapeutic, cathartic, educational, psychological and aesthetic effects on the human being.

"Music and the Arts are defined as realities that penetrate the spiritual and physical levels and as instruments of knowledge and transformation for an enriching human coexistence."

RESONANT SEEDS (Part 6)

As we comprehend the laws of music we will be able to enlarge our ideas about music and its function in the world. We will come to see how music permeates each act, from the vital development of the cell to the opening of the heart and the interflow of the brain waves. Music will let us discover the real patterns of the universe, the significance of galaxies, stars and 'who' planet Earth is as a whole.

Sound and vibration will form the basis for a new scientific approach to the life of nature. The emission of sounds by the mineral, vegetable and animal kingdoms will be keys to understanding their essential origin. The pitch of the human voice will reveal the most important aspects of personality for development of soul qualities, and psychology will truly be considered the Sound of Soul (Psyche-Logos). We will more thoroughly understand the connection between politics and music, a connection Confucius and Plato found both normal and natural.
